Deep Learning and Neural Networks: An Overview

Deep learning is a subset of machine learning that uses neural networks with many layers (also In These models excel at tasks like image and speech recognition. Techniques include Convolution